THE 4 FOUNDATIONAL BELIEFS
FOR MASSIVE BREAKTHROUGHS AND DIVINE PROSPERITY

BOLD BEAUTIFUL BLISSFUL U | REWRITING DESTINY

Sweet little note from me

Hi there... I'm Janette and it's such an honour for me to interact with you in this way.. By now, you know a little bit about me and how my journey has been.

I have always had an unquenchable craving for freedom, prosperity, great healthy, a sexy body – you know, the good stuff in life... But I also wanted to do it on my terms and feel like I am of value to myself, my family, community and my world. And to be honest, working my way up to create the best of both worlds hasn't been easy – but I am proof that it is possible.

That's why I am so excited to share with you these 4 foundational beliefs that need to become the cornerstones upon which you build your entire life. You'll be going through them in the coming pages and if there's one thing I must emphasise about them it must be this: As long as you don't undermine their simplicity, they will transform your mind, your life conditions, your relationships, your body and your business in more ways than I can articulate...But you have to press play and earnestly implement them. If you do, you'll be really happy I got out of the slums and found a way to create this little gift for you :-)

With love ♥ JG

First Things First!

Your Story...

I can't tell you how important it is for you to give yourself permission to change the story you believe about yourself, which you've been clinging on to all these years. Your business success and that dream lifestyle that you now want to design actually depends on it. It has been my shocking realization (having come from a very different background as compared to most of the clients I serve today), to discover just how many of us are still missing out on a joyous lifestyle, simply because of the old story we keep telling ourselves and others.

I won't get into much details here of how and why it's important to keep re-creating your story, but just bear this in mind. Much of what you were conditioned into, the kind of self-image you have and how you think life works might be the one thing that's still keeping you from enjoying what would otherwise be what I call "the kingdom lifestyle."

Of course if you choose to be part of our elite community and take advantage of the private mastermind on mind & money that I host, we'll not only show you practically how to create a new money story but a new life story.

You deserve a new story and now is the best time you will ever have to start laying down and releasing some of that heavy burden that you've had to carry all your life. Whether it's pain, disappointment, abuse, regret, guilt, blame, shame, lack of self-confidence, low self-esteem and fear - it is time to create a new story. If you don't know how then reach out for help - but if you do, then don't let this day (yes today), don't let it end without a full declaration from you that it's time to have a new story that reflects the kind of lifestyle and business your heart really desires.

Why is this a big deal?

Because the breakthrough you're looking for will happen a lot faster if you first get a new story that supports your new desires

Let us get to know each other a bit!

My Old & New Story

I think it's only fair for me to let you know a little more about me and why I do what I do, before I start revealing for you these 4 foundational beliefs that literally helped me break the chains of mental, emotional and spiritual bondage in my life. But that is only effective if you have a little perspective on how long my journey has been...

You see my dear reader, today I live the dream lifestyle that everyone told me would never happen. I have a gorgeous and sexy body that I am extremely proud of, I have a gorgeous family and I live on the Italian Riviera where beauty and abundance is on overdose. Being immediate neighbours to Monaco and waking up to a gorgeous view of the Mediterranean Sea each morning is beyond anything this former slum girl had envisioned and let me assure you, spring, summer, autumn or winter time - awesomeness is the norm here and we always do it with style!

Yes I certainly live a very blessed and fortunate lifestyle, have met more wonderful people than I can count and there are numerous times during my day when I just pause to take in all the goodness that life has generously and lovingly given me. Love, joy, a sense of meaning and value and a sure knowing that I am doing what I came on earth to do is my daily experience... But don't be fooled by all the glam and grace that I radiate today - I wasn't born in it - I learnt how to find it and reclaim it for myself.

So where did my old story start from?

Bold Beautiful Blissful U

My Old & New Story

It would require an entire book to tell you in any meaningful detail how far I have come. In fact you can read all about how I worked at rewriting my destiny in my digitally available book which you can get on iTunes called: Rewriting Destiny against all odds. But even better is the must read, soon to be amazon best seller book that's now my first internationally published and soaring book called: A modern woman's guide to successful living. The 7 essential steps to a bold, beautiful, blissful u. And you can access these online from your favourite search engine or simply email me and I will be happy to gift you a copy if you make a special request before the end of 2016 :-)

Back to the summary of my old story.. Let's see - I was born in the second largest slum in Nairobi, Kenya. Couldn't pursue Education which killed me because I was innately in love with books and the idea of becoming someone important in society even though no one in my family had ever come close to anything of that nature. I started taking care of a family when I was a kid and I worked my way off the the slum streets into the grace and glam that I am today. In between of course was a lot of darkness, drama, ill-health, anger, destitution, desperation, poverty and more awfulness than you can imagine... But I think you're getting the point here - I was a complete disaster as are most slum dwellers and the story I was carrying was just destroying any possibility of a bright future.

Most people give up chasing the impossible because their fear of failure is greater than the excitement of winning... But not me!

I have never been scared to take a bullet for something I really believe in, and I know that's one of the major things that got me this far.

The slums...
My starting point

Bold Beautiful Blissful U

My Old & New Story

I AM NOT SAYING IT WAS EASY - BUT I AM STILL HERE AREN'T I?

And that's why you can't convince me that you're an exception regardless of how tragic your conditions are. But what must change first is the story, belief system and state of consciousness you're carrying around. You see that's what I trained myself into and eventually mastered. I am called by those in my circle of influence "the breakthrough queen"... Sounds quite nice, I don't mind it and the only reason I don't reject such flattery is because I really do have an extraordinary appetite for going after what others call "impossible." It's just my thing and I don't ever want to loose that desire and hunger to prove the goodness of life even under the worst conditions.

So having changed my story, my belief system and state of consciousness, life has really become an extreme experience if we trace back where I was born. I feel like I have lived two very extreme lives in one lifetime. And yes I did my sex, drugs and alcohol phase too; I did the evil ice princess phase where anger and revenge was the only feeling I could connect with and hurting people seemed fair since life was unfair to me. Certainly not one of the people you may have expected the holy spirit to seek after, especially not for the purpose of spreading of the gospel of love, truth, goodness and hope!

I have been as far removed from spirituality or things of a higher nature as anyone you could imagine. Being a material girl was the only thing I knew and cared about - and yet, in an inexplicable way, I received my commission to be a messenger of the teachings I share today. So much so that my burning passion and the thing that gets me out of bed now, is knowing that I have the opportunity to connect with and serve those like you who want a new lifestyle and more freedom.

I feel that given the poisonous mind that I grew up in coming from African superstitions and dogmas which promote the very evils that torment us, I am very much as the blind man who was cured by the Holy Spirit through Christ as it has been written in scripture and to be honest, the hardest part was for me to finally embrace my healing and let go of my victimhood.

Continued...

So how is the former slum kid doing so far? :-) Definitely NOT as everyone around me predicted!

I live and love living the good life!! And just because I am spiritually awakened doesn't mean I gave up on luxury, just means my priorities shifted and as a result, my divine favour and blessings continue to flow and increase gracefully... That's what I want for you too!

Thus the glorious burden that burns my heart is being able to bring in more light and help those like me who have been crying out to life for signs of wonder and hope; those who are tired of being stuck in destinies they can feel they don't deserve. Those that most people think will never make it just because conditions aren't favourable.

Those who are ready and willing to question and test much of the ideas that have been implanted as normal in their lives... Those like me who desire to know the truth about life and what is possible for them.

I am not saying I am done, in fact I haven't even scratched the surface. There is so much I need to learn and express and I know the living spirit in me still has much healing to do in me before I can evolve into my ultimate best self, but I am always doing my best to keep moving in that direction...

And that's all you have to do too!

Bold Beautiful Blissful U

Enough about me though.... Unlike most teachers today, I really don't take much pleasure in showcasing how awesome life has been to me, instead my pleasure is in showing you how to tap into your own awesomeness!

So let's get to it then...

Destiny Unfolding!

Your New Story

The only way you will give space for the new reality to manifest is by undressing your mind and consciousness from the old story. You must make an effort if need be, to put off the old mind and its garment and put on the new mind which has a new garment. What I am here to do is help you become aware of the 4 cornerstones of thought that will hold things in place and define your new parameters for achieving divine prosperity and true freedom.

Hence the first place for us to commence is with you defining and declaring your new story... I have shared with you a little about my old one and the new one so I am sure you can see that to be where I am today is by far no coincidence. It's all by design.... I long for you to live life on your terms and design your own lifestyle of freedom. This is after all, the best glory our creator can receive through us.. So please, spend a few moments now journaling down the ideal lifestyle and business that you really, really, really want to call your life.

Here are a few questions to help you:

- What would you love to be, do, give and experience over the coming 6 - 12 months?
- Paint a worded picture of how your ideal day looks like. What are you doing, how are you feeling and what kind of experiences are you having from the moment you wake up till you go to bed?
- How does your health, love life, family, business and finances look like?
- How much meaning, bliss, beauty, prosperity, grace and love are you now experiencing in your new story?

Preparing for breakthrough

What is a Cornerstone thought?

I see a cornerstone thought as a foundational corner that holds things in place and sets parameters for anyone to build on a belief that actually leads to behaviour that fosters and maintains prosperity and goodness that ever increases, in alignment with the law of our being.

In this little pamphlet all I am doing is giving you a high level overview of the cornerstones which I believe will help you build whatever success you desire in life. Should you choose to pursue them in greater detail you will obviously have the opportunity to join me in a different setting where as your companion, I will be able to assist in your unveiling the best way to expand and experience these cornerstones in your daily reality and especially in your path of digital entrepreneurship.

The blessing that's at hand for you now, should you choose to join our digital entrepreneurial platform is that you will be able to work at growing your mind and your business simultaneously, which means your success and results ought to happen quite rapidly as opposed to doing them separately or having to find one resource here and another elsewhere. The way I have set up the atmosphere for the members who take up the digital entrepreneurship education is that once you officially join our community you automatically qualify for a very high-end, intimate and premium mastermind that I call the "greenhouse" which helps you plant the right seeds under the right atmosphere in your first 90 days of starting your digital business journey with us. Once you submit your application to join our elite community, I will share with you all corresponding details regarding your Mind & Money Mastermind which will be in alignment with the digital business model training our digital platform offers - so rest assured, it's time for MASSIVE BREAKTHROUGHS spiritually and physically!

If however you haven't chosen to pursue your digital business with us but would like to have the mind & money experience you can still do so by making special arrangements directly with me, at which point we will determine the best way for you to receive the same.

Now, let's take a look at what both theology and philosophy have proven to be cornerstone beliefs that can aid anyone to rewrite their destiny and thrive. I tapped into these cornerstone thoughts unconsciously and it has taken many years, a lot of time, money, education, energy and prayer to finally find the right words to articulate these in as simple way as I can. Simplicity is what I strive for because nature continues to show me that it is indeed the only way to find higher truth. So as you go through them, do so with the heart of a child and a mind that is willing and ready to renew itself because my conviction is that these beliefs will produce the behaviour that will be most conducive to the manifestations of all your current desires.

THE 4 FOUNDATIONAL BELIEFS

1. LIVING SPIRIT IS ONLY GOODNESS

Because our maker is only goodness, we are required to dream big! Through our dreams we make his goodness more visible.

2. ALL THINGS ARE POSSIBLE

Because goodness is all there is, we must dream big and a big part of our life is designed around taking risks since nothing is impossible.

3. ALL THINGS HAVE BEEN ACCOMPLISHED

Because all our true desires are already reality in heaven, we trust the law of growth and attraction to manifest all we desire and a rich harvest to follow.

4. I AM WORTHY

Because I am a child and manifestation of the living spirit, I am worthy and significant in the grand design of life. I have a rightful position, purpose and meaning that keeps me here, which no one can fill. I have meaning!

1. LIVING SPIRIT IS GOOD

“Oh, taste and see that the lord is good; Blessed is the man who trusts in him”

Pslam 34:8

The goodness of the All-Originating living spirit needs to become the foundation of your systems of thought. It must be deeply ingrained and emphasised in our minds and smeared on anything we do, think and dream.

It is the one thing that many of us still don't work with and that's why we don't value dreaming or the desires of our hearts. Because we don't really understand the goodness that is the spirit of life, we continue to struggle into success.

Here's what's been revealed to me about life: All of life's judgement are all aimed at whatever interferes with love.

So anything that manifests in your world which doesn't scream goodness has only been brought about through an error on your end of the equation - not on the side of the living spirit for it is only pure goodness.

And even that seemingly awful judgement is only there because life is trying to protect you against something that threatens love; it is a judgement against what would destroy you because life only seeks to bring out the best in you!

The one thing that will become very clear to you as we embark on this journey of designing your freedom lifestyle is that all great spiritual teachings always meant to show you that your ability to dream and live from your desires is the only way your destiny will unfold.

So having chosen now to live from your destiny and go after the prosperity and riches that you rightfully deserve, you are assured that as long as you're doing it in alignment and by the law of our being - you will be blessed. And this is what I want to help you master, because I know when you can allow yourself to pursue your true passions, the living spirit in you comes alive and empowers you even more - far beyond anything you've imaged -

This needs to be the first and primary foundational belief that goes into the building up of your freedom lifestyle: Living spirit is only goodness and as such you must allow yourself to dream big.

If you are not dreaming, you are dying.

2. ALL THINGS ARE POSSIBLE

“But Jesus looked at them and said to them, with men this is impossible, but with God all things are possible”

Matthew 19:26

I believe we were made to invade the realm that others call impossible and it is the thing that I love the most. Nothing is impossible to you and I as long as we are true believers.

I am convinced that your life conditions right now are only displeasing because life is trying to shake you into an awakening that is better and more beautiful than anything you've known so far. That's why your heart aches for more and desires for things that may seem ridiculously out of reach. Your ability to dream is your invitation to dare and risk – so that you can find out just how awesome you are and how blessed you are by the living spirit.

Together, we are going to use this truth relative to your life and your current desires so that you can make that breakthrough once and for all.

It may seem like you're going after an impossible mission and if it's the case, I applaud and encourage you because that's how it ought to be!

You are most definitely on the right track and I assure you that no matter what the physical world is screaming, as long as you understand how to plant deep within your mind the cornerstone thought that nothing is impossible for you because of who you really are – life will prove to you just how right you are!

The history you've recorded so far or the facts that are currently dominating your physical reality have nothing to do with what you are now going to accomplish over the coming months, if you have chosen to design your own freedom lifestyle. You can experience more freedom, financial prosperity, bliss and well-being in your life and it never needs to be a struggle again.

Neither will it be necessary for you to get drowned in fear, worry, overwhelm and uncertainty over your life because as Christ said, all things are possible for the one who knows and lives by God. We just need to discover his true nature and apply his eternal principles to our modern objectives. And since we have now seen that he is only goodness and that he requires us to dream, since nothing can be impossible to living spirit, learning to take risks in life is how you want to design your digital business and lifestyle.

3. ALL THINGS HAVE BEEN ACCOMPLISHED

This part is infact where we will spend most of our time together fully establishing in your mind as it is where real faith and trust is cultivated. That's why you find all great teachers who understood the principle of life emphasising the cultivation of strong faith and a belief in the desired outcome as already accomplished.

As you increase in your understanding of the characteristic and nature of the living spirit in you as well as the creative process that your entire life is subject to, it will increase your faith; the true faith that is based on understanding..

By this faith you will come to see, just as christ taught – that everything you have asked for and desired is already yours. Although you are still working at manifesting your thriving business, a new financial status and so on, I want to show you how to work from a place of victory. Your objective is already yours in heaven and it is in the here and now, not in the near future.

“An ideal, as such cannot be formed in the future. It must either be formed here and now or not be formed at all.”

Excerpt from the Edinburgh Lectures on mental science.

Learning how to approach your business from a place of victory moving toward greater victory is the one thing you want to master otherwise you will derail the outcomes and experiences that you want.

Most of humanity has been conditioned into false misconceptions and wrong approaches to success that's why struggle prevails. But once you step out of mass thinking and begin to draw from your own individual capacity where resources and inspired guidance await your command, this adventure of manifesting a freedom based digital lifestyle with a business that rocks will become one of the best decisions you ever made in your life.

So now we have introduced the 3rd cornerstone stone that aligns with the first two and fortifies them further in this way: Knowing that the All-originating spirit is only goodness and requires you to dream big for his glory to continue manifesting, you can learn how to take calculated risk since nothing is impossible for you. And because this desire you have is coming from the living spirit, if you believe in it and trust it then it must be already existing as an accomplished fact right now!

4. I AM WORTHY

“Awaken dear friend and discover how precious you are. Because you are His seed, your value cannot be measured in earth or in heaven for you are His blessed child and that is why you chose to come and represent Him”

Janette Getui

If I could only help you with one thing in your life, I would wish it to be the true understanding of your real value and worth. I have struggled with reclaiming my own value and appreciating the unique voice that I carry. I even struggled with embracing my spiritual revelations and the encounters with divine energy that I was receiving- simply because I always felt like I wasn't good enough.

The biggest obstacle between your freedom lifestyle given the tools, strategies and opportunity that our digital training offers has to be in this arena. As long as you don't feel like you deserve lots of money, you won't attract or keep lots of money; as long as you don't feel like your authenticity and voice is important you'll always feel not good enough and seek to imitate. When that happens, the way you serve others will have less of an impact on them and your results as well.

This is why in the "greenhouse" experience where we run the mind & money mastermind I spend a big portion of our 90days together helping you rediscover and connect with your true identity.

Not the ego-centered one but the individual in you that holds your seeds of greatness.

You must learn how to connect to your real worth and value so that you can approach your business, clients, relationships and desires in a manner that benefits you and all concerned parties.

This is the 4th cornerstone thought that must become established with great emphasis in your mind as I know both religion and society have done a massive disservice to us by training us into false conceptions of self. Here's the thing though:

You will never be able to out-perform your concept of self. You also can't successfully create an extraordinary lifestyle with a thriving digital business unless you work on improving your image of self.

It governs how you handle clients, the kind of clients you can attract, the amount of money you can earn, the quality of relationships you can enjoy and so much more...

So in so many words what I am attempting place massive emphasis on as best as I can is this: Your significance in this grand design of life is irreplaceable once you tap into your true identity and start showing up in your life and business with that conscious awareness of who you are and the value you have.

I believe in the significance and worth of every human being, there is a tremendous wonder, overwhelming beauty and a rightful place that you fill which is unique to only you in the grand design of life. But I want you to understand finding this place of value and high worth will only come from right understanding. Not from being impressed with your own identity as most people are, but being impressed with the significance of the living spirit that you discover in your life.

You and I were created in his image and likeness right? So in other words what that means is that each one of us represent an aspect of his image and nature that no one else can fully represent in the same way we do! There's an aspect of who He is, that each of us carry, that is unique to who we are... The more we can learn to live from this awareness, it becomes easy to dream big, work toward our big dreams and actually expect them to come about with absolute certainty.

Nothing is more beautiful than learning to value yourself based on the significance and value of the living Spirit because that's where you came from.

But you must be careful not to get carried away and caught up by your own beauty to the point where you loose sight of the one that is infinitely greater and infinitely beautiful. Our challenge in our modern society is to find that perfect alignment in our relationship with this infinite living spirit and to the extent that we master that and apply it on all our affairs, to that extent life becomes effortless.

Divine prosperity will flow to you as you step into this phase of seeking financial independence especially if you do a good job establishing these cornerstone thoughts into the foundation of your empire. Natural or material success is part of your inheritance and the living spirit wants nothing more than to pour out blessings to you that satisfy you for generations to come - but you must be willing and committed to building that prosperity and success that you're asking for on a foundation that's set upon the principles of life.

“God created man in his own image; in the image of God He created him; male and female he created them”

Genesis 1:27

YOUR NEXT BEST STEP

Now that we have revealed the 4 foundational beliefs that will naturally produce massive breakthroughs and allow the flow of divine prosperity in your life once and for all, what must you do now, to take these concepts and turn them into practical experiences?

From Concept to Experience

It is important that you don't fall for the old trap that many success seekers find themselves trapped in. The trap of settling only for conceptual understanding of how to create a freedom lifestyle. In our digital community we are more invested in making things practical than making them sound appealing or sophisticated and that's why I have no doubt that choosing to grow your digital business with us will be an experience unlike any other. The human support, the love and affection that we share, the trainings and solutions that we have as well as the different mentorship and coaching programs that you will find inside there will ensure that you build something solid that you can pass on to your children.

But more than that, I want you to build more than just a business, I want you to build a lifestyle. I want you to unfold your destiny and live in purpose. I want you to be able to do these things simultaneous so that any success your manifest comes from a place that is solid and divinely blessed. Gone are the days where you must choose between love and money, happiness and success! Gone are the days where you accept fear, insecurity and uncertainty as something normal in your life... We want to help you finally learn how to produce your own version of heaven here on earth because we've realised that this is how you were meant to live.

Here's what you need henceforth in order to produce your freedom lifestyle:

- You need a business model that can help you create something sustainable that will make you self-sufficient. A vehicle that you can trust in helping you enjoy more time, and money freedom.
- You need to be part of a loving, supportive community as you grow in your entrepreneurial journey so you can avoid many of the pitfalls that are bound to show up and challenge your success.
- You need to master and embed these 4 cornerstone thoughts deeply into your belief system so that as you renew your mind and build material success, that empire can grow on solid ground that blesses you and everyone else in your world.

YOUR NEXT BEST STEP

We can most certainly help you with all of these stated point and much more more! The best way is to be able to work on both your business and state of mind simultaneously and since the online world is ever changing, knowing where to go to get everything, at the same time can be very time consuming and draining. This is why I have the "greenhouse experience" for my members because I have learnt in my own journey that often, the momentum of great success is blocked within the first 90 days because of information overload and at times lack of right knowledge on how to approach your new desire to create a thriving digital lifestyle.

It is my sincere hope that from this little pdf you can now see that your success is guaranteed. You will be free and prosperous this year because we are going to set things in a better and right order. So what can you expect from us going forward?

First, we will do our best to show you how simple it can be for you to become independently wealthy and create a self-sustaining lifestyle regardless of where you reside in our beautiful world. We will do our best to also simplify the business concept you may have had so that you can make an informed decision on the blueprint that you want to apply in your life. If our vision and passion aligns with yours, then our blueprint will exponentially help you shift into the reality you want to have.

Together we will work on expanding these 4 foundational beliefs and help you with one of the biggest shifts you will ever make: The shift out of lack and poverty consciousness into prosperity consciousness so that you can finally prosper in life!

I must however make you aware of certain crucial points that I invite you to start reflecting on deeply so that the success you create this time can be real success or what I call the kingdom lifestyle:

- You must know who you really are and what your true identity is in order to trusting more in your own worth and authenticity.
- You must understand the relationship between you body mind and spirit so that your approach to manifesting anything whether it's more clients, more income, your ideal body or soulmate - becomes more effortless and fun.
- You must tap into freedom and prosperity within so you can manifest it gracefully on the outside.
- You must find a way of learning how to take intelligent risks, master money so you can have power over it in your life and attract the right kind of people, clients and opportunities into your life.

EMPOWERED TO PROSPER

These are the things we will be unravelling with great emphasis and enthusiasm as we start our mastermind on mind & money. The beautiful truth I wish to end with for now comes down to just 4 attitudes of mind that you will start living from, once you really seed your mind with the 4 foundational beliefs that I've shown you.

And they are simply this:

1. Because Living Spirit is only goodness;

You are required to dream big! It's through your dreams and desires that the creative power within you finds special expression and each day that passes where you postpone your dreams is another day where your soul continues to be imprisoned by old conditioning. All your dreams should always and only be based on this one truth... Living spirit is all good and your mandate is to dream big to reveal more of this goodness in your world.

2. Because all things are possible;

Your life needs to be designed around intelligent risk. You are invited to take risks and follow your passions and desires regardless of how seeming impossible they are. You came to invade the realms of impossibility and your dreams will often require some measure of risk, of which you need not be fearful of – because nothing is impossible for the one who's building a kingdom lifestyle.

3. Because all things have already been accomplished;

You must learn how to trust in your relationship with your maker and increase your faith so that you can approach all your dreams and goals from a place of alignment. Developing faith based on understanding will empower you to prosper faster in your digital business and lifestyle.

4. Because I am worthy;

You can confidently trust that you deserve all the prosperity that your heart desires and expect it to come. As such, being yourself and serving others well becomes your main focus. You'll learn how to be authentic and true to yourself, how to value your own voice and how to serve others through adding as much value to their life through the proper use of your gifts and talents. Your excitement naturally becomes to live in purpose, serve with passion and cheerfully expect goodness to fill your world because you came here for nothing less than greatness.

EMPOWERED TO PROSPER

What if these simple shifts are all that remain before you can finally step into your dream lifestyle? I have no doubt you've already done a lot of work in different ways to get you more time, money, freedom and satisfaction in life.. If you still don't have the daily experience of what your heart aches for, adapting these 4 attitudes of mind will definitely be the final straw to your breakthrough... I can only hope that now, you feel ready and empowered to prosper.

If you do, I look forward to welcoming you into our community and being your companion in this wonderful journey you have chosen of living life on your own terms.

You were made in the image and likeness of the living spirit - divine prosperity is the only reality that you and your family were meant to experience in this life. Now you have the key to unlocking what has been missing in your world and for now, I hope you will start reflecting on some of the ideas we've shared since we started. Work on renewing your mind; start upgrading your paradigms and beliefs because everything literally depends on that.

For now, I will send you lots of love and light and encourage you to get to work because that freedom lifestyle that you're looking for isn't going to come about unless you start moving things. Create a new momentum and watch how fast the universe will respond to you.
